Target Company: Command Coffee

Goal: This project can certainly be completed before the end of this course through effective planning and action. Our system will allow the company to effectively view the performance of their products and their sales through fun animated displays of product data and the active change of their data.

Communication Plan:

Continuing on with this project as follows, we will meet every 2 days to ensure that operations and progress are going smoothly. Whenever a task or a change is made, related to our project, a notification of some kind must be enforced before proceeding any further with any other task related to the overall project. This would preferably be posted within discord but especially within the event of any kind of commit, communication especially needs to be delivered within the additional comments section of any git commit / update. Any concerns regarding progress upon our project should immediately be reported to the team leader should any uncertainty come to pass. Lastly, it is crucial to share any findings that may benefit the other members of the group or overall project such as online resources or ideas that may help improve the quality of the project.
